Mr. Hoffman was away at the time and it was nine o'clock the following morning before Mrs. Hoffman was able to find them herself, gave the alarm. The police immediately left the Wood Mountain post, and instituted a diligent search and every day since every available man has been on the search party.

MINER KILLED BY CAVE IN

Employee in Strathcona Mine Met
Sudden Death

Strathcona, June 3.—A sad accident occurred at the coal mine north of Walters' mill by which a miner, Robert Burket, lost his life. Mr. Burket was at work in his accustomed place when a cave-in occurred which buried him. When released life was extinct, as the falling material had broken the man's neck and literally crushed the life out of him. Papers in his possession indicate that he is from Smith's Falls, Ont. His remains are now at Undertaker Wainwright's parlors subject to burial orders. He is apparently about 40 years of age, has been in the west for some time, and has mostly worked as a miner.

NEW STATION FOR MONTREAL
Montreal, June 3.—The C.P.R. has decided to expropriate property on St. Antoine Street west of the Windsor depot, to value a half a million dollars and will build a gigantic station.

AUSTRALIA ROUSING UP.

London, June 4.—The postmaster-general of the commonwealth says that the Canadian emigration boom has awakened us to the need of doing something to push Australia. We can offer as satisfactory prospects to the emigrant from Great Britain as Canada, Canada is nearer, but it must be remembered that railways of Canada are in private hands, while the railways of Australia are in the hands of the state. The result of this is that when the emigrant arrives in Canada the cost of transit to his destination in the interior is greater than if he had gone to Australia, where special facilities are offered to emigrants on the railways. These things ought to be known and preparations are being made with a view to placing the facts before intending emigrants.

GOVERNOR HANLY SEES TROUBLE

Presages a Revolution as Result of Economic Conditions

Lafayette, Ind., June 4.—In a Memorial Day address Governor Hanly, addressing a large crowd at Purdue university, dwelt at length with public "grafting." He said:
"The American people are at the beginning of a great revolution. As yet there is in a literal sense no call to arms. There are no drum beats, no bugle blasts, no hurried ranks, no marching columns, no battlefields strewn with the wounded and the dead, but the revolution is upon us although all these are not present. Stupendous social, economic and political changes are involved. Deeply imbedded in the very core and centre of this revolution, running like a thin thread of gold through all its shifting scenes and changing forms, are certain fundamental principles of human right and of human liberty, and unless we in our day possess a willingness to seek for these and the wisdom to find them, and the patriotism and the courage to proclaim them, to stand by them and save them when found, the call to arms, the drum beats, the bugle calls, the hurried ranks, the marching columns and the battlefields will come to us and to you as certainly as they came to our fathers."
"The criminal aggressions of incorporated and aggregated wealth against the individual must be played by legal regulations and wholesome laws, or else, if enforced, or history will repeat itself in your day as it has in the past. You will no more be exempt than other generations have been. Progress must and will be made."
"Human rights, the rights of the individual citizen or the rights of the body of the people, are not safe where government is administered by special interests or through the corrupt or demoralizing influence of organized greed and wealth. No despotism can be more absolute than the despotism of money."
"Thrift, wealth and aggregated capital are essential to the prosperity of the people and the development of the country. I wage no war against these or any of these. But I do wage war against the kind of thrift that grows by theft and peculation, against the abuse of wealth, against the corrupt practices of incorporated capital, and the undue and unholy influences it exercises in the administration of government. I do not look with pleasure either upon 'muck' or the 'muck rakers,' but either is better than the 'muck bed,' and as long as the 'muck bed' remains I hope the 'muck raker' will continue to expose it and to lay it bare that the people may come to hate it, to despise the greed that feeds it, and to forsake every man whose hands are soiled with pollution."

SINCLAIR FOUND GUILTY.
Prince Albert, June 3.—The jury in the $50,000 conspiracy case, after being out two hours, returned a verdict of guilty against the deputy returning officer. The crown asked for sentence but Mr. Mackenzie applied for a respite. This was granted. James Sinclair was released on his own recognizance for four thousand dollars.

Toronto, June 3.—Joseph Phillips, the York Loan magnate, was arrested by Detective Mackie this afternoon. Phillips has been on bail in two guineas. Thomas Walker and Capt. A. T. Hunter, $2500 each. Mr. Walker took flight and thought Phillips would fill without awaiting his trial, and notified the crown that his bond was cancelled. Phillips is now in the cell until a new bondman appears.

Reported that Grand Trunk has Taken Options on Four Quarters North of City Limits
Railway rumors are rife on the streets these days, and are having their consequent effect on the real estate situation. The rumors are to the effect that the G.T.P. has taken options on a block of land consisting of four quarter sections to the north of the city and that the options are to be closed in the immediate future and the property taken over by the company, to be used for railway yards, freight terminals, shops and works. The property mentioned is outside of the city limits to the north of Delton, Norwood and the King Powell subdivisions, and the consequent effect on these properties has been to cause a lively movement. The Edmonton Real Estate Co. has withdrawn the remainder of their Norwood lots from the market and there is quite a lively turn over in the property that has already passed into other hands. Del Grieron has withdrawn the uncollected property and there has been a lively movement in Delton lots for several days past. The rumors have had the most apparent effect on First street property, north of the C. N. R. track. Between Columbia avenue and Churchill, on the Hudson Bay reserve, pretty nearly every lot has changed hands during the past two weeks, and on the east side of the street there has been a lively movement.

EIGHT KILLED BY THE HEAT

Sweltering Weather Causes Fatalities in Chicago

Chicago, June 3.—Heat and humidity which continued today added a quarter to the victims of the previous twenty-four hours. The day opened murky and although there were a few short showers the mercury slowly climbed from the seventies well towards nineties. Eight deaths due to the heat have been reported during the forty-eight hours.

PICK-POCKETS STILL BUSY

Winnipeg Men Ask Police to Locate
Missing Purse

Winnipeg, June 3.—Within a few minutes of drawing $251 from the Bank of Hamilton yesterday Edward Green, 526 Alexander avenue, discovered that he had been relieved of his wad while en route home on a car and now he has asked the police to locate the party who made the daring touch. The fact the taxpayer two reports were made to the police by persons who had lost their wallets indicates that the pick-pockets are still at work. William Smith was another individual who is looking for a purse which was taken from him as he was en route from Brandon.

RUSSIAN OFFICERS INDICTED

Naval Court of Inquiry Censures Rojstvensky for Surrendering

St. Petersburg, June 3.—The naval court of inquiry has presented an indictment against Vice Admiral Rojstvensky, who was commander of the Russian fleet at the battle of the Sea of Japan and officers of the torpedo boat destroyer Belov for surrendering to the enemy after the battle. The indictment is a crushing arraignment of the demoralization and cowardice of the officers, castigating their conduct with that of the officers of the torpedo boat Gromy, which in practically the same position engaged and sunk a Japanese torpedo boat.

INVESTIGATION TOMORROW

Parties Having Information Re Isolation Hospital Conduct will be Heard

The investigation into the charges against the manner of conducting the isolation hospital made some time ago by Dr. Donald McGibbon will be held before Hon. Mr. Justice Harvey at the court house tomorrow at 10 a.m. A number of sub-poenas have been issued to those known to have information as to the charges. But as it is the wish of the city council and also of Judge Harvey that the investigation be as complete as possible any person having any information as to the charges will be afforded an opportunity to be heard.

ARRESTED FOR MAIL ROBBERY
Winnipeg, June 3.—On a charge that he had been rifling mails to the extent of $2,000, Joseph E. D. Arson, who had for some time been a mail clerk at Calgary, was arrested in St. Boniface yesterday. The capture was made by Sergeant Wilson, R. N. W.M.P., who commanded the party that rounded up Bill Miner and his companions at Kamloops.

Search of the effects of the accused revealed $350.
For some time the postal department at Calgary had been receiving complaints of money never reaching its destination. Suspicion fell upon Arson, and when he suddenly gave up his position and came home to St. Boniface, Sergt. Wilson followed him. Arson had only been a few hours in the city and his trunk had never been delivered. A search of it revealed eighty-five $10 bills stowed away in the toe of a boot.

FIERCE FIGHT IN CHICAGO STREETS

Lithuanians and Austrians Try to Settle an Old Feud

Chicago, June 3.—With hammer, bricks, shovels and pipes four hundred employees of the Illinois Steel Company today waged war in the street around the company's plant and attempted to settle a feud of long standing. The battle was waged between the Lithuanians and Austrians and dozens were injured, many seriously. The riot started with a remark made by an Austrian, which was repeated by one of the opposing faction and in five seconds the street was a seething mass of furious fighting men. Capt. Powers with men armed with revolvers and rifles swept the mob into one of the foundry buildings and restored order. A hurried call for physicians was sent. All details regarding the wounded were denied.

PEASANTS AND COSSACKS FIGHT
St. Petersburg, June 7.—Hourly the news from northwestern provinces becomes more threatening and urgent requests are being received from officials for troops, whose loyalty is unquestioned. The peasants encouraged by their success in defying the police and infantry are reported taking issue with the cossacks and entire districts are in flames, while armed peasants are marching through the country robbing and murdering land owners.

TENDERS FOR RAILS AND TIES

Railway Commission Receives Tenders for Supplies

Ottawa, June 3.—The Transcontinental Railway Commission received four tenders to-day for supplying 65,000 tons of steel rails for the Winnipeg and Quebec sections. There are four tenders in all. The Sydney Co. and the "Soo" company have tendered. There is a tender from Great Britain and another from the United States. So far no report has been made by the Commission, but the likelihood is that the contract will be divided between the two Canadian firms. The Sydney and Sault Ste Marie matter will be decided to-morrow. Three tenders have also been received for a million and a half railway ties.
Andrew B. Ingram, M.P. for East Elgin, has been appointed commissioner of the Ontario Municipal Board. He was notified of his appointment to-night.

CORED BY BULL, MAY DIE.
East Selkirk, Manitoba, June 3.—A young bull on Sir William Van Horne's stock farm here seriously, if not fatally, gored a stockman named Davis yesterday.

THE EVIDENCE.
Toronto Globe: It borders on the humorous to find the Opposition quoting the value of Northwest lands against the Government. The value has been created by the very policies that are being challenged. The justification of the Government's Northwest administration is the Northwest. If the Opposition were to be candid it would say that its chief grievance against the Government's land and immigration policy is that it has been so enormously successful. When it contacts the Northwest of to-day with the Northwest of Conservative times its charges are intelligible, although its manner of manifesting its feelings is indefensible.

NEWFOUNDLAND PROSPEROUS

Britain's Other American Possession
Also Had a Surplus

Newfoundland is prosperous. Mr. F. M. Jackman, the Minister of Finance and Customs, was able to prove in his speech on ways and means. Mr. Fielding has the distinction of having made seven consecutive budget speeches, which is probably a unique record within the empire for a chancellor of the exchequer or Minister of Finance. Mr. Jackman also has a very good record in this regard, having presented to the Newfoundland House six budgets. In his recent budget speech Mr. Jackman went back half a century, during which time, he said, our forefathers have breathed into every branch, of trade a new spirit of energy, enterprise, freedom, and fair play. Fifty years ago the population of Newfoundland was less than a hundred thousand; at that time the people suffered from lack of education, the wealth of the country was restricted to the few, the merchants were sojourners, who made money easily and went home to spend it; labor was poorly paid, and the fishermen did not enjoy the full fruits of their toil. Mr. Jackman said that the Liberal party of that day held that the introduction of the free principles of parliamentarism or responsible government would place the future of the country in the hands of the chosen representatives of the people, and that through the people's parliament an impetus would be given to trade and education, that new industries would be fostered and the latent energy and enterprise of the people quickened into new life and action. Mr. Jackman largely credits to the foresight of those men of fifty years ago the tide of prosperity the colony is now enjoying, and places on record profound gratitude to them for their labors.

It is interesting to note the variations in Newfoundland's exports during the past fifty years, the figures compiled by Mr. Jackman telling a graphic story of the ups and downs of the colony's trade. The exports of dry codfish were valued at $1,147,460 in 1855 and $6,108,814 last year. The figures for cod oil were respectively $297,069 and $168,184; cod liver oil, $178,281 and $118,649 and $147,137,974; pickled herring $91,557 and $235,054; herring frozen and bulk, nil and $154,584; lobsters, 164 and $12,602; whale bone, $145 and $14,833; pickled salmon $27,567 and $70,383; salmon preserved and fresh, nil and $15,586; iron nil fifty years ago and $635,350 last year; copper, nil and $448,403; pyrites, nil and $149,514; slate, nil and $10,636; lumber, nil and $197,547; while general shipping inward and outward has increased from $271,824 tons in 1855 to $1,812,537 last year. The population has increased during the same period from less than a hundred thousand to over two hundred and thirty thousand. Our exports to Newfoundland have increased steadily for some time past, the increase amounting to a hundred per cent. in the past seven years. Our exports to the island for the fiscal year 1898-9 amounted to $2,983,439, compared with $1,935,024 from Great Britain, while last year the amount was $1,165,569, compared with $2,654,508 from the United Kingdom. On the other hand, we bought goods from Newfoundland to the value of $547,727 in 1898-9, and $1,358,548 last year.

Mr. Jackman had the handsome surplus of $1,199,354 last year, and for the past six years the total surplus of revenue over current expenditure had amounted to $752,636. This has been expended upon the construction of new post offices, hospitals, a museum, extension of wireless telegraphy, construction of court houses, new roads, and marine work, new lighthouses and fog alarms, encouragement of herring fishery and payment of matured loans, while an amount of $187,968 has been placed to the credit of a reserve fund. In former years, such services were provided for by loans, and, as such, became a fixed charge, both for principal and interest, on the present and future generation. In addition to this saving, the taxation on foodstuffs has been reduced during the past two years by over two hundred and thirty thousand dollars a year, or one dollar per head of the population. Such is a fine achievement. As an excellent proof of the advancement of the colony in educational, commercial and social avenues the figures of the post office are given. In 1855 the number of letters posted was 17,425 and the revenue of the post office amounted to $2,475. In 1905 the number of letters posted was 2,653,000 and the revenue amounted to $71,296.

EIGHT KILLED IN A MINE

Red Lodge, Mont., June 7.—Eight miners are dead and a dozen others are entombed in the lower levels of a mine of the Rocky Fork Coal Company as the result of a fire which destroyed the shaft house and upper workings to-day. Search parties entered the mine and managed to bring out eight bodies. They were identified as Brady, Kelly, MacPhail, Bailey, Fleming, Alberto and one unknown man. The others are imprisoned, and attempts are being played on the fire in an attempt to drown it, but without success.

TUBERCULOUS BEEF

Winnipeg, June 8.—Before the health committee yesterday Dr. Little, the city's meat inspector, stated that a heavy proportion of the cattle brought in for city consumption had tuberculosis. The prevalence of this disease did not, however, he said, involve any great danger to the public, as an animal was rarely affected beyond the lungs.

SPANISH MINISTRY RESIGNS

Madrid, June 8.—Consternation was created in official circles here yesterday when Premier Moret himself, in King Alfonso's resignation of all the ministers of the cabinet. No public explanation of the unexpected move has been made and the people are considerably excited over the matter.

SENTENCED FOR BIGAMY

Los Angeles, Cal., June 7.—Rev. Joe R. Wylie, self-confessed bigamist, was sentenced by Judge Smith to pay a fine of five dollars and to be imprisoned for one year in the penitentiary. The district attorney represented that the crime was not an aggravated case and dropped the prosecution against the clergyman's second wife, a Mrs. Green.

BEWARE OF "WOODEN NUTMEGS."

THIS is an age of imitations! The symbol of the period should be the "Wooden Nutmeg."

Every sincerely good and reliable article of commerce has today a score of deceptive substitutes poaching upon its market. And, if the substitutes were as good as the originals they would not need to imitate the outward appearance of the originals, but could create a market of their own, on merit.

The Maker of a good, and reliable article makes it sound and reliable so as to deserve, and hold, a future market.

The Maker of a substitute for that article makes it for present profit only—to trade upon the goodness of the original.

He has nothing at stake for the future, and his policy is to give you the shell without the kernel—the appearance without the value.

Some Shoe Retailers prefer selling "long-profit" shoes to selling "The Slater Shoe" which is price-controlled by the Makers.

But, don't forget that the Slater Shoe is priced by the Makers to prevent your being over-charged when you try them.

Look for the Slater frame and the Makers' price, $4.00 or $5.00 on the lining.

WILL FOLLOW
BRITISH MODELRussian Parliamentary Committee
Studying the British System of Government

St. Petersburg, June 1.—The manner in which the Duma has gone about its work cannot be better illustrated than by the following:

A member of the electoral college of delegates is authority for the statement that for weeks past the central executive of the constitutional democrats has been assiduously studying, partly in translation and partly in the original, a specially ordered set of Hansard's parliamentary records in order to obtain familiarity with English parliamentary procedure.

Whether the historian of the future will declare the Duma of today the real beginning or the real ending of trouble in Russia is something that the historian of the future must decide. But one thing is certain. The Northern Palmyra has completely changed its everyday aspects. The streets are crowded with men, women and children, hitherto hurrying to and fro at hours of the day and night when, in ordinary times a gloomy silence was wont to prevail. Well groomed horses, smart carriages, graceful broughams, and cozy victorias are whirling over the streets in all directions. Hony handed men in long coats, whose shaggy beard rough hewn features and a cunning twinkle of the eye characterizes as peasants, are encountered around the streets of the great capital, evidently pleased partly at their own importance, and partly at the freshness of the sights and sounds.

These specimens of Russian manhood, who are sacrificing agriculturists to politics, are being received with quasi-imperial honors by the representatives of the Liberal parties bent on winning them over to the side of liberty, and although the peasants are likely in most cases to succumb, yet many are shrewd enough to look well before leaping.

The other day, one stout, gray, broad-shouldered fellow, who punctuated his language by drawing his hand through his shaggy beard, stroking it affectionately, was heard to speak thus to an enterprising politician who was catechizing him about his political principles. "We have not come hither for any party. We are here for the good of the czar himself. We have lost confidence in everybody else. Parties may be good, we cannot say they are not, but that's neither here nor there. The duma is called together by the czar, who wants to know our will, and when I was leaving home the peasants who sent me said 'Go and see the Little Father, the czar, and do what he tells you. That is our will.' And I am come to do that, and no to jibe parties nor listen to ministers. I am come to the czar."

Evidently that simple minded farmer, and doubtless many others like him, fancy they will meet the czar himself sooner or later in the duma, and will be guided by him directly, for they have said they will not believe in intermediaries. At a meeting held recently a Radical was making a strong speech in favor of liberty, to the peasants' deputation, who listened with curiosity and interest for a considerable time, until the orator began to depict the advantages of a republic over a monarchy, and then the rugged brows were puckered into frowns and stern disapproval was writ large in many faces.

Obviously these men have a strong faith in the czar, and are resolved to cultivate it. If the bulk of them act thus when the real tug-of-war has come, then the present government will have an easy task to perform. The optimism of these Liberals is unfounded who profess to believe that M. Gornykin and his colleagues are come merely as heralds to usher in democratic government. Herebefore almost everything has come to pass in the matter of governmental changes exactly as predicted and not only have the fundamental laws been published, but even M. Stishinsky, the incarnation of the quiescence of reaction, has been appointed minister of agriculture, and arbiter of the fate of the agrarian problem. And yet the constitutional democrats are congratulating themselves on the disappearance of Count Witte and the recognition of their electoral triumph by the crown.

If one must venture in the field of prophecy it is almost worth while affirming that the chances of the duma being summarily dismissed by M. Gornykin, in the manner which he himself recently prescribed to the exponent, are immeasurably greater than of power being conferred upon the Liberals. The present cabinet is but the practical consequence, drawn from the successful floating of the loan on the one hand, and the tested loyalty of the troops on the other. M. Gornykin is naturally desirous of discharging his task without needless violence and will endeavor in the first instance to govern with the help of the peasants, and if that fails he will not immediately dissolve parliament or employ brute force, but will send the deputies to enjoy the dog-days in the freshness of their rural haunts, postponing the final issue until the autumn. Such is the most favorable course of events that can be expected.

But if the parties get out of hand and show themselves deaf to reason very much worse things will befall them. The spirit in which the government is acting, may be inferred from two facts. In the first place the premier, M. Gornykin had not once called upon Count Witte, and this deliberate slight is noteworthy not solely because of the personal bitterness which it betokens, but also by reason of the circumstances that the threads of the most important matters were in Count Witte's hands, and a business-like conversation with him would have been a great help to his successor, bent upon administering affairs congruously with the interests of the nation.

The second significant sign of the times is the sudden and unceremonious dismissal of all the ministers without warning, or observance of the formalities which are never departed from even in the case of the pettiest civil servants who have been guilty of misdemeanors. The inviolable rule is, dismiss nobody without allowing him to tender his resignation in writing. That charitable form covers a multitude of sins by saving appearances, and allowing the official to say he was not cashed by his superiors. Only criminals are exempt from this rule.

Now Count Witte's colleagues, anxious to spare his majesty the embarrassment that would ensue from their joint resignation, remained courageous, loyal their posts, some of them continuing at the work zealously for the good of the empire. For instance, Prince Obolensky, who is over-procurator of the holy synod, and M. Pobodonostsev's successor, has proved an admirable man of affairs, and is highly esteemed by the clergy, secular and regular, and by the Christian laity.

He is peculiarly qualified by training, reading and taste for the arduous post in these exceptional times, and everybody believed he would be allowed to continue his work on the ground that church affairs ought to be eliminated from party affairs. Yet he and his colleagues have all been summarily dismissed and the only balm applied to their wounded sense of dignity, is an official untruth, interpolated in the government announcement, to the effect that they tendered their resignations, which the czar graciously received. Such was not the case.

—Calgary Herald: The city electric light plant has not been such a "white elephant" as some of the opponents of municipal ownership's suggested it would be at the commencement of the year. The city in $3,000 behind a clean balance sheet. This represents the total indebtedness after paying interest on indebtedness after paying interest. This sinking fund in view of the fact that it is the year of beginnings. In addition to this $3,000 the plant must track on a payment of $9,000 by the city for street illumination. The power house provided 90 arc lights, and the cost per light was $100. This is a somewhat higher payment than other cities pay for light, but it is not exorbitant. The electric light plant may be able to show careful management to finance itself next year.
